

Elopements

An uncharted destination for elopements in the Scottish Highlands...

Morvern remains an untouched treasure on the Scottish elopement scene. Wrapped around the shores of Loch Aline and tucked away from the ever-growing crowds, Ardtornish offers a versatile landscape for couples seeking intimate and adventurous celebrations.

Celebrate your way...

We understand that couples planning an elopement will have their own vision for the special day.

Our self-catering cottages are surrounded by sparkling lochs, ancient woodland, rugged mountains, castle ruins and sandy shores, meaning you can disappear into an extraordinary landscape from the doorstep. Choose a ceremony location that resonates with you and fill the rest of the day doing the things you love.

How do you envisage your day?

Perhaps it's a lochside ceremony after a lazy breakfast in bed, exchanging vows at the castle ruins with the afternoon spent kayaking, or tying the knot at our bothy, followed by a massage and candlelit dinner in the comfort of your cottage.

With such a wide variety of landscape and activities on our doorstep, choosing Ardtornish as your base opens up a world of options.

The Elopement Package

Our elopement package has been thoughtfully crafted to offer you ultimate flexibility and freedom. This is your special day and should reflect who you are as a couple, from start to finish.

At Ardtornish, we provide the space for you to celebrate your own way, knowing that we have the small touches covered.

Should you choose to start your next chapter with us, our package includes...

- A three night stay in one of our traditional, self-catering cottages
- Access to grounds to hold an outdoor ceremony at your chosen location
- Vehicle to take you and your photographer to the most dramatic backdrops
- Bouquet and buttonhole from a local florist
- Dinner for two from award-winning restaurant, The Whitehouse
- Picnic style lunch for two, The Whitehouse
- Gift Basket from Ardtornish, showcasing local goods
- Two Witnesses (if required)
- Events Manager to help coordinate the day

Price £3,500
